Internal Quality Assurance Cell Composition

Objective of IQAC:

The Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) is very important for keeping and improving the quality of education in a college.

IQAC's goal is to create a system that helps the college improve both its teaching and administration. It works to make sure the college always gets better. The IQAC helps the college focus on improving quality in everything it does.

The IQAC creates a student-friendly environment that supports good education, research, and overall growth. It organizes regular meetings, workshops, and seminars to help everyone involved feel connected and responsible for improving the college.

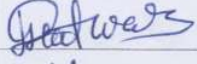

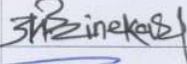

In simple terms, the IQAC works to develop a mindset of maintaining and enhancing quality among teachers, staff, and students.

Function of the IQAC :

IQAC is responsible for developing benchmarks and parameters for various academic and administrative activities. These benchmarks serve as standards against which the institution's performance can be measured and improve.

IQAC arranges workshops, seminars, and training sessions for faculty, staff, and students. These programs focus on improving teaching methodologies, enhancing research skills, and upgrading administrative processes. By providing continuous professional development, IQAC ensures that the institution's workforce is equipped with the latest knowledge and skills.
